Artyzen Singapore is just a stone's throw from Orchard Road, located at 9 Cuscaden Road.

Embracing this unique heritage, Artyzen Hospitality Group worked in partnership with renowned architect ONG&ONG Pte Ltd and award-winning interior design studio Nic Graham & Assoc. to transform this lush property into a luxury vertical oasis in the heart of Singapore.

A 20-storey Vertical Oasis

Home to the 142-room luxury lifestyle accommodation, this iconic heritage landmark celebrates the Straits Chinese culture. Lush green foliage accentuates balconies on different floors, further emphasizing the building's spatial lightness.

Facilities:

Level 1- Café Quenino

Level 4- Quenino by Victor Liong with outdoor terrace area

- Event space

Level 5- Workout & Wellness with fitness centre,

- yoga pavilions and spa treatment rooms.

- lounge and a herb garden

This prime estate was previously known as Villa Marie. Built in the 1940s by the late Tan Hoon Siang, an active botanist for his second wife - Madame Marie Theresa Windsor.

A thoughtful eco-friendly approach in both design and landscaping was deployed to mitigate the hot and humid sub-tropical Singaporean weather. Elongated high ceilings and balconies were used to facilitate airflow. In addition, lush vegetation planted throughout the building provides shade and deflects direct sunlight.

Artyzen Singapore was designed with the influence of colonial Singapore, specifically the Peranakan heritage.

Key highlights:

- Villa Marie provided two key components for the design of Artyzen Singapore: 1. Contemporary raw concrete shell and 2. Archways, garden, courtyards, and covered walkways.
- Digital art, interactive lighting techniques and broad scale graphics.
- Elongated arches within the high ceiling spaces with original digitised Peranakan themes.
- Public areas: the cool of polished concrete, black framing, herringbone timbers, stones and brass with ceiling fans.
- Guest rooms: colours abound, barrel-vaulted bathroom, touches of local culture.
